- company codes of practice

Information may be:

- oral communication
- formal or information messages
- customer details
- queries
- written communication
- tables and charts, such as budgets, accounts
- diagrams, pie charts, graphs
- performance charts
- sales charts

Appropriate personnel may be:

- managers or supervisors
- peer support officers
- senior colleagues
- other personnel with special expertise as appropriate

Routine correspondence may be:

- memos, letters, notes, records

Diverse backgrounds may include:

- culture
- language
- race
- religion
- ethnic origin
- socio-economic status
- age, sex

Communication techniques may include:

- face to face
- written communications such as emails, memos, written messages, letters, notices
- technology based including telephone, fax and computer
- verbal
- non-verbal

Forms and documents may be:

- memoranda
- letters
- incident forms
- brief reports
- applications forms
- complaints forms

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The Evidence Guide is a guideline, which assists in the development of assessment instruments/tools to assess the competency of workers in the Financial Services Industry sector. This requires evidence of consistent achievement of the workplace outcomes covered by the unit.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

- completion of a range of communications tasks
- demonstrating effective techniques
- accurate receiveable and transmission of workplace information

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- knowledge of company policies and procedures in regard to customer service, communications, correspondence, recording of information and messages, administration
- knowledge of effective communication techniques
- knowledge of types of correspondence used in the workplace

Skills

The ability to:

- basic listening and questioning techniques
- telephone techniques
- speaking clearly and directly
- use of basic software
- interpersonal skills
- negotiation skills
- calculation skills

(4) Resource Implications

- Assessment of this unit of competence requires access to workplace documents, policies and procedures, computers and other office equipment.

(5) Method of Assessment

- For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.
- Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed at work, in a simulated work environment or a combination of these

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCTVET Qualifications Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.

RANGE STATEMENT

Computing equipment, associated devices may include:

- computers
- scanners
- printers
- modems
- CD burners

Organisational procedures may be related to:

- privacy and security of documents and files
- safe storage procedures
- administration systems
- access procedures
- maintenance procedures

Other equipment may include:

- photocopiers
- facsimile machines
- telephones

Appropriate software may include:

- word processing
- spreadsheets
- databases
- accounting programs
- email and internet programs
- specific financial industry programs
- programs built or customised for a particular company

Standard procedures may include:

- procedures for changing and saving information
- guidance on file naming and saving
- document format (eg reports, letters, memos, applications, formal financial documents)

Appropriate storage may include:

- electronic procedures for storage in directories, sub directories, back-up copies
- storage on compact disks, hard or floppy disks, backup systems
- filing of hard copies of correspondence, computer generated documents

Legislation or regulations and codes of conduct may include:

- Consumer Credit Code
- Privacy Act
- Financial Services Reform Act (FSRA)
- Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) Codes of Conduct
- Financial Transactions Reports Act
- industry codes of practice

Routine maintenance may include:

- changing toners
- cleaning various parts of equipment
- replacing consumables
- checking when professional servicing is required (possibly under warranty)

Technical assistance may include:

- computer help desk personnel
- managers and supervisors
- designated technology assistance staff
- external staff employed by manufacturer of the equipment or software supplier
- staff from specialist computer support companies
- Consumables may include:
  - ink or toner cartridges
  - paper
  - fax cartridges

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

- the ability to use technology and particularly computers to achieve the workplace outcomes required by their organisation

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

knowledge of:

- available technology and its uses
- operating instructions and how to access the relevant manuals and operating procedures
- security procedures required by the organization or by legislation
- appropriate software, including the custom built software for a particular company, and computer applications including the internet and email
- company policy relating to use and maintenance of computers and other equipment

Skills

The ability to:

- interpersonal and communication skills
- computing skills
- use of software programs, including email and internet programs, and custom built computer programs
- referral skills (when to seek help)

(4) Resource Implications

Assessment of this unit of competence requires access to a range of equipment including computers, associated equipment such as scanners, printers and a range of programs for document production and management, information handling, using the internet and sending and receiving emails.

(5) Method of Assessment

- For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.
- Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed in the workplace or in a simulated work environment.

RANGE STATEMENT

Competent performance of the performance criteria must be demonstrated in the context of this unit allowing for the differences between enterprises and workplaces. In addition the following variables may be present for this unit

Group objectives may include:

- written or verbally specified objectives that identify expected workplace outcomes and achievements
- industry targets
- company targets
- specific workgroup objectives

Individual differences may include:

- culture
- language
- race
- religion
- ethnic origin
- socio-economic status
- age, sex
- physical capacity

Resources may include:

- personnel
- equipment
- budget
- time

Workgroup may include:

- office specific groups of employees assigned to complete designated tasks or to work together
- the company as a whole
- individual branches
- individual work sections

Individual work plans may include:

- basic knowledge of communication principles
- basic knowledge of conflict resolution principles
- knowledge of time management principles
- basic knowledge of principles of effective teamwork
- basic understanding of reasons for organisational change

Workplace objectives may include:

- those objectives written or verbally specified that identify expected outcomes and performance within a designated workplace

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

- the ability to work with others to achieve the outcomes required by the organization
- ability to carry out work within the limits of the resources available and to the quality standards required by the organization

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- basic knowledge of communication principles
- basic knowledge of conflict resolution principles
- knowledge of time management principles
- basic knowledge of principles of effective teamwork
- basic understanding of reasons for organisational change

Skills

The ability to:

- interpersonal and communication skills
- teamwork participation skills
- time management skills
- planning skills
- referral skills
- basic conflict resolution skills
- resource management skills

(4) Resource Implications

- Assessment of this unit of competence requires access to the resources required for a team activity to meet a specific outcome.

(5) Method of Assessment

For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

| Levels of Competency                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                              |

- 3.3 Workplace procedures for dealing with incidents/accidents, fire and emergencies are followed whenever necessary.
- 3.4 Workplace emergency first aid procedures are followed.

RANGE STATEMENT

Competent performance of the performance criteria must be demonstrated in the context of this unit allowing for the differences between enterprises and workplaces. In addition, the following variables may be present for this unit.

Workplace may include:

- corporate and company offices, factories or sites
- home offices
- rented accommodation
- offices, property, or dwellings of clients
- motor vehicles or other transportation

Ergonomic guidelines may specify:

- the types of equipment used
- appropriate furniture
- safe usage time
- seating posture
- visual display unit screen brightness

Hazardous materials and equipment may include:

- faulty equipment
- chemicals
- electrical faults
- loose fixtures
- plant or equipment
- motor vehicles
- obstacles and obstructions

Designated personnel may include:

- health and safety officers
- supervisors and managers
- staff designated as health and safety representatives

Safe practices for working with computers and other screen based equipment may include:

- taking breaks
- ergonomic seating (correct height and positioning)
- techniques for avoiding eye strain (brightness, avoiding reflections, resting eyes)

Hazard warnings and safety signs may include:

- internationally recognised safety signs and hazard warnings
- industry recognised safety signs and hazard warnings

Safe handling guidelines and safe manual handling may include:

- those specified in legislation, company guidelines, procedures manuals and equipment operating manuals and safety information documents

Legislation may include:

- commonwealth and state legislation and regulations relating to OH&S

Incidents/accidents, fire and emergencies may include:

- falls
- fire
- bomb threats
- criminal activity
- electrical faults

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

- ability to work without causing harm to themselves or to other workers
- ability to identify workplace hazards, demonstrate what should be done in cases of emergency, and contribute to the workplace strategy for managing the safety and health of the organisation

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- knowledge of health and safety legislation and responsibilities of employees and employers
- knowledge of safe working practices especially working with screen based equipment
- knowledge and understanding of hazard signs and safety symbols
- knowledge of emergency procedures including procedures for fire, accident and risk control
- knowledge of communication techniques

Skills

The ability to:

- skills in using equipment
- literacy and skills in interpretation of signs and symbols
- skills in working identifying hazards and referring them to appropriate personnel
- communication skills

(4) Resource Implications

Assessment of this unit of competence requires access to the workplace and the usual OH&S resources available in the workplace.

(5) Method of Assessment

For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed in the workplace, a training organisation or a combination of both.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCTVET Qualifications Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment. This unit may be assessed on its own or it may be assessed with other units that cover related skills and knowledge.

Evidence is most relevant when provided through an integrated activity, which combines the elements of competency for the unit, or a cluster of units of competency.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

To achieve competency in this unit, a person must be able to demonstrate:

- ability to take part in a range of formal situations
- ability to produce reports
- ability to demonstrate listening and questioning skills

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- meetings procedures
- conventions for writing minutes
- listening and questioning techniques
- report writing conventions
- interviewing procedure

Skill

The ability to:

- listening and questioning skills
- research skills
- ability to write work related documents in clear, straightforward prose
- ability to empathise with others

(4) Resource Implications

Assessment of this unit of competence requires access to the documents and other resources required for the formal situation.

(5) Method of Assessment

For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

RANGE STATEMENTS

Competent performance of the performance criteria must be demonstrated in the context of this unit allowing for the differences between enterprises and workplaces. In addition the following variables may be present for this unit

Planning aids include but not limited to:

- diaries
- schedules
- action plans

Resources include but not limited to:

- office consumables
- items of small equipment

Information held include but not limited to:

- that supporting own area of work

Information includes:

- technical
- organizational
- personal

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- demonstrated ability to prioritise work
- demonstrated ability to work and achieve daily or periodical work plans
- demonstrated ability to adapt and respond to a changing workplace environment
- knowledge of organization procedures for obtaining resources
- knowledge of interpersonal communication techniques
- demonstrated understanding of importance of achieving individual workplace objectives
- the ability to carry out work within the limits of the resources available and to the quality standards required by the organization
- application of problem solving techniques in a workplace environment

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- identifying and obtaining reference materials
- personal storage systems
- indexing and cross-reference systems
- classification systems
- work methods and activities
- sources of relevant information
- procedures for obtaining information
- procedures for maintaining confidential information
- time management
- team working
- methods of identifying, ordering and/or requisitioning
- resources
- lifting and handling of resources
- storage of resources
- organisation's security procedures

The ability to:

- demonstrate interpersonal and communication skills
- demonstrate teamwork participation skills
- demonstrate time management skills
- demonstrate planning skills
- demonstrate resource management skills

(4) Resource Implications

- the availability of qualified and recognised assessors
- access to workplace documents
- opportunities for workplace demonstration or simulation
- accurate recording of candidate progress and performance
- access to company policies and practices

(5) Method of Assessment

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include:

- practical demonstration
- questioning
- workplace documents
- projects/assignments
- written tests (verbal usage and verbal comprehension)
- portfolio of work documents
- third party reports

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed at work, in a simulated work environment or a combination of these.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

The Evidence Guide identifies the critical aspects, knowledge and skills to be demonstrated to confirm competency for the unit. Competency is demonstrated by performance of all stated criteria including the Range of Variables applicable to the workplace.

Planning aids include but not limited to:

- diaries
- schedules
- action plans
- electronic planning tools

Internal customers include but not limited to:

- peers
- line staff
- managers
- other members of the organization

External customers include but not limited to:

- suppliers
- customers
- external agencies

Communication methods include but not limited to:

- written
- verbal
- electronic

Documentation include but not limited to:

- incoming correspondence
- copies of outgoing correspondence
- financial records
- manual
- computerized

Legal requirements include but not limited to:

- document retention
- confidentiality

Filing system includes:

- manual
- computerized

Information held include but not limited to:

- that supporting own area of work

Resources include but not limited to:

- office consumables
- items of small equipment

Information includes:

- technical
- organizational
- personal

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- ability to meet deadlines
- demonstrated ability to seek appropriate assistance
- demonstrated ability to communicate both orally and in writing
- knowledge of filing systems
- knowledge of organization structure
- knowledge of data protection legislation
- knowledge of document control
- presentation of career portfolio or similar information
- demonstration of professional performance

-(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- organizational procedures
- planning aids
- organizational structure and reporting relationship
- sources of information
- methods of communication
- safety and security regulations
- data protection legislations

Skill

The ability to:

- demonstrate effective interpersonal and oral and written communication skills
- apply research and analysis skills
- identify ways to improve performance
- interpret written and oral information
- accurately complete appropriate documentation
- monitor own performance and identify and prioritise any personal development needs

(4) Resource Implications

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(5) Method of Assessment

- For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.
- Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

- Assessment of performance requirements in this unit should be undertaken in an industry context and against industry defined assessment guidelines.
- Aspects of competency, including attainment of relevant knowledge and skills may be assessed in a simulated work environment or other appropriate means.

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competencies should be demonstrated by the ability to provide quality customer service in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variables statement.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

Assessment candidates should produce evidence of the following:

- knowledge of enterprise products and service
- knowledge of and adherence to enterprise standards, policies and procedures
- use of appropriate phrases in dealing with customers
- clear and concise communication with the customer including use of active listening and empathy techniques
- referral of inquiry in a prompt and efficient manner
- various options are provided to the customer when more than one option can satisfy customer need
- commitments are made with customer in accordance with enterprise policy
- projection of a professional image in representing the company

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- empathy
- teamwork
- enterprise policies, procedures and guidelines
- enterprise culture and values
- enterprise business goals and standards
- enterprise protocols associated with customer service
- operational environment: (customer base, company products and services)
- operational systems

Skills

The ability to:

- use computer keyboard
- articulate enterprise products and services
- carry out questioning and active listening techniques to clarify information
- apply customer service skills to satisfy customer requirements
- offer effective rebuttals

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be made available:

- an operational customer contact centre or a simulated contact centre with similar features
- customer contact technologies
- information technology

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency should be assessed while work is undertaken under limited or no supervision and include observation of real or simulated processes and procedures and questions related to underpinning knowledge.

(6) Context of Assessment

Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. This should be supported by a range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to operating a presentation package and applies to individuals in the information and communication industry.

Software may include:

- Microsoft Office
- Lotus Suite
- Claris Works

Equipment including:

- personal computer/ networked system
- printer
- projector

Formatting may include:

- appearance
- margin
- page size
- page orientation
- header and footer

Guidelines may include:

- organisational style guides
- organisation quality procedures
- naming conventions

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to correctly operate a presentation package in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- creating presentations to specifications
- add text and symbols to presentations
- format presentation appropriately
- produce required outcome

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- ITICOR0231A Operate a personal computer

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- types of software with presentation applications
- software functions for formatting and manipulating objects
- using a scanner
- importation of tables and charts

Skills

The ability to:

- design presentation
- manipulate tools and features
- customise settings
- format presentation
- create slide show effects
- insert text and images
- preview and print presentation correctly

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be provided:

- work environment (simulated or actual enterprise)
- personal computer/networked system

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency shall be assessed while work is undertaken under direct supervision with regular checks, but may include some autonomy when working as part of a team.

Competencies in this unit may be determined concurrently. Assessment must be in accordance with the performance criteria.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job. Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. A range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge should support this.

Simulated activities must closely reflect the workplace.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

|                                    | 6.3 | Information is printed from installed printer.                                                              |

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to operating a personal computer and applies to all individuals in the information and communication industry.

Software may include but are not limited to:

- Microsoft Word
- Microsoft Works
- Corel WordPerfect

Equipment may include:

- personal computer
- printer

Software functions may include:

- text formatting
- page set-up
- line spacing
- paragraph formatting
- tabs
- spell check
- grammar check

Formatting may include:

- margins
- enhancements to text –colour, font, size
- enhancements to format – borders, patterns and colour
- alignment on page

Printing may include:

- printer set-up
- printing multiple copies
- printing specified pages
- printing odd or even pages

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to complete basic operations associated with creating, formatting, saving and printing a document in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- create documents in line with organisation's guidelines
- customise settings
- format and layout document to specification
- insert images and tables
- use software features and tools appropriately
- apply printing procedures

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- ITICOR0231A      Operate a personal computer

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- basic technical terminology in relation to reading help files and prompts
- log-in procedures relating to accessing a PC
- types of software
- formatting styles
- use and functions of word processing software
- effect of formatting on readability and appearance of documents
- page layout conventions

Skills

The ability to:

- manipulate software features
- format documents
- create a range of documents
- add images and tables
- customise settings
- apply printing procedures

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be provided:

- work environment (simulated or actual enterprise)
- personal computer/network
- printer

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency shall be assessed while work is undertaken under direct supervision with regular checks, but may include some autonomy when working as part of a team.

Competencies in this unit may be determined concurrently. Assessment must be in accordance with the performance criteria.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job. Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. A range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge should support this.

Simulated activities must closely reflect the workplace.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCTVET Qualification Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.

- 4.3 Spreadsheet or part of spreadsheet is printed from installed printer using the correct procedures.

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to operating spreadsheet applications computer and applies to individuals in the information and communication industry.

Hardware may include but not limited to:

networked system
printer

Software may include but not limited to:

- Microsoft Excel
- Lotus 123

Disk may include but not limited to:

- diskette
- zip disks
- compact disks

Operating Systems:

- Command line
- Graphical User Interface

Mathematical functions may include:

- add
- subtract
- multiply
- divide

Formatting may include:

- margins
- indentations
- page layout
- orientation

Modifications may include changes to:

- colour
- shade
- size
- shape

Data may include:

- numeral
- text
- images
- objects

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to complete basic operations associated with creating, formatting, saving and printing a spreadsheet in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- ITICOR0231A Operate a personal computer

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- basic technical terminology in relation to reading help files and prompts
- log-in procedures relating to accessing a PC
- types of software
- basic mathematics
- formatting functions of software
- creating and saving files

Skills

The ability to:

- create spreadsheets
- format and modify worksheets
- apply simple mathematical functions
- apply printing procedures

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be provided:

- actual workplace or simulated environment
- personal computer/network

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to operating a database application and applies to individuals in the information technology industry.

Hardware including:

- personal computer
- networked system
- printer
- attached peripherals

Disk may include but not limited to:

- diskette
- zip disk
- compact disk
- hard disk

Software may include but are not limited to:

- DB2
- Microsoft Access
- Microsoft SQL Server
- Informix
- Sybase

Document may include but are not limited to:

- established files
- new document

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to design and develop a simple database using a standard database package in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- create a database
- develop tables with fields and attributes
- modify tables layout and field attributes
- modify data and records to meet information requirements
- access and retrieve data
- navigate through tables
- exit database without loss of data

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- ITICOR0231A Operate a personal computer

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- basic technical terminology in relation to reading help files and prompts
- logging procedures relating to accessing a PC
- security, viruses, privacy legislation, copyright
- types of software
- basic database design
- field attributes

Skills

The ability to:

- access database
- create database
- customise settings
- access and retrieve information

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be provided:

- work environment (simulated or actual enterprise)
- personal computer/network
- printer

To demonstrate this unit of competence the candidate will require access to documents detailing organisational style guide/policy.

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency shall be assessed while work is undertaken under direct supervision with regular checks, but may include some autonomy when working as part of a team.

Competencies in this unit may be determined concurrently. Assessment must be in accordance with the performance criteria.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job. Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. A range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge should support this.

Simulated activities must closely reflect the workplace.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCVET Qualification Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.

  - 3.1 Accounts are reconciled according to operating instructions and enterprise requirements.
  - 3.2 Reports are generated according to operating instructions and enterprise requirements.

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to operating accounting applications and applies to individuals in the information and communication technology industry.

Enterprise equipment and data may vary according to:

- size
- type and complexity of business
- number of employees
- sources of income
- the nature of sales
- tax obligations
- support provided by accounting professionals

Hardware may include but are not limited to:

- personal computers
- networked systems

Software may include but are not limited to:

- commercial software applications
- organisational specific software
- word processing

Documents may include but are not limited to:

- established files
- new documents

Keyboarding speed will vary according to:

- organisational requirements
  - job roles within an organisation.
- The keyboard technique will be in line with OHS requirements for safe use of keyboards.

Reports will vary according to enterprise requirements and the extent of support provided by accounting professionals, but might include:

- Profit and Loss Statements
- Balance Sheets
- Charts of Accounts Summary
- Business Activity Statements

Mode of payment may include:

- cheques
- cash
- credit cards
- credit notes

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to operate accounting applications in order to create and maintain enterprise financial records that meet business and legislative requirements in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- demonstrate compliance with Occupational Health and Safety regulations applicable to workplace operations
- indicate compliance with organisational policies and procedures
- apply organisational quality procedures and processes

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- the features and functions of common accounting software such as MYOB, Quicken and Phoenix
- a sound understanding of basic accounting principals such as assets, liabilities, equity, income, cost of sales, expenses, debtors and creditors
- a sound understanding of basic accounting devices including accounts, sales journals, purchases, invoices, transaction journals, general ledger and chequebook register
- the features and functions of common accounting reports including Profit and Loss, Balance Sheet, Chart of Accounts Summary and Business Activity Statements
- a sound understanding of current legislative requirements relating to enterprise requirements including income tax rates and GCT

The ability to:

- operate a PC and relevant peripherals
- use mathematical ideas and techniques related to recording and analysing basic financial data

(4) Resource Implications

To demonstrate competence in this unit the candidate will need access to:

- current commercial accounting applications and a PC with appropriate specifications to run the software.

(5) Method of Assessment

Competence in this unit may be assessed using formative assessment to ensure consistency of performance in a range of contexts.

Assessment of this unit of competence could include review of documents developed by the candidate. Questions related to the performance criteria and directed to the candidate, peers and business client will assist in assessing competence. Observation of skills will assist in the collection of evidence.

Simulated activities must closely reflect the workplace.

Peers and supervisors must be available to give information on the extent and the quality of contribution made.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job. Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. A range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge should support this.

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- knowledge of relevant industry codes
- knowledge of relevant laws and regulations
- ability to comply with operational aspects of laws, regulations, rules and circulars
- ability to explain changes and implications of law, regulations, rules and circulars when requested
- ability to comply with agency/broker agreement and professional indemnity obligations
- ability to comply with relevant industry codes
- ability to maintain statutory records

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- relevant regulation pertaining to the financial services industry sector
- relevant codes of practice
- disclosure of capacity criteria
- relevant agency agreements and/or broker authority
- client complaints handling procedures
- duty of care principles
- professional indemnity insurance

EVIDENCE GUIDE

This unit may be assessed on its own or it may be assessed with other units that cover related skills and knowledge.

Evidence is most relevant when provided through an integrated activity, which combines the elements of competency for the unit, or a cluster of units of competency.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

Assessment must confirm appropriate knowledge and skills to:

- locate, interpret and apply relevant information
- work effectively with others
- maintain workplace records
- select and use appropriate workplace colloquial and technical language and communication technologies in the workplace context
- follow the designated work plan for the job
- select and use correct mathematical procedures

Applies underpinning knowledge and skills when:

- describing consequences
- completing tasks
- identifying improvements
- applying safety precautions relevant to the task

Critical Aspects of Evidence (Cont'd)

Shows evidence of application of relevant workplace procedures including:

- job procedures and work instructions
- quality procedures (where existing)
- security procedures
- following enterprise housekeeping processes
- action taken promptly, accidents and incidents reported in accordance with Statutory requirements and enterprise procedures
- recognises and adapts appropriately to cultural differences in the workplace, including modes of behaviour and interactions among staff and others
- work completed systematically with attention to detail without damage to goods, equipment or personnel

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

This unit of competency may be assessed in conjunction with other units that form part of a job role or function.

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- organisational policies and procedures
- budgeting
- cash handling procedures
- security procedures
- business source documentation
- electronic and paper based recording systems
- balancing petty cash accounts
- distribution of information
- checking and sorting cash and associated documentation

Skills

The ability to:

- written and oral communication skills
- basic numeracy skills

(4) Resource Implications

Access to petty cash, account keeping books and relevant documentation.

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency should be assessed while participating in a range of exercises, case studies and other simulated practical and knowledge assessments that demonstrate the skills and knowledge to maintain a petty cash account, and/or maintain petty cash accounts in an appropriate range of operational contexts.

(6) Context of Assessment

Competency is to be demonstrated by performance of all stated criteria, including paying particular attention to the critical aspects and the knowledge and skills elaborated in the Evidence Guide, and within the scope as defined by the Range Statement.

Assessment should reinforce the integration of the Critical Employability Skills and the Competency Standards for the particular NVQ-J level. Refer to the Critical Employability levels at the end of this unit.

Assessment may occur on the job or in a simulated workplace

(4) Resource Implications

The availability of qualified and recognised assessors in an environment, which provides opportunities for workplace demonstration or simulation as well as the accurate recording of candidate progress and performance.

(5) Method of Assessment

- demonstration
- questioning
- workplace performance
- role-play
- projects/assignments
- written tests (verbal usage and verbal comprehension)
- portfolio of work documents
- third party reports

(6) Context of Assessment

Assessment of performance requirements in the unit may be undertaken in an industry context. Aspects of competency, including attainment of relevant knowledge and skills may be assessed in a simulated work environment. Competency is demonstrated by performance of all stated criteria, including the Range of Variables applicable to the workplace.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

|    |                                   | 4.7 | Potential problems, obstacles and risks in meeting goals are identified.                                                                                                                                                  |
|    |                                   | 4.8 | Specified action steps that are to be performed in order to accomplish goals are identified.                                                                                                                              |
|    |                                   | 4.9 | The method by which results will be measured is indicated.                                                                                                                                                                |

- 4.10 Milestones for reviewing progress and tying these to specific dates on a calendar are established.
- 4.11 Sources of help to obtain resources are identified.
- 4.12 Evidence of the ability to review process and periodically revise goals is demonstrated.

RANGE STATEMENT

At this stage of the entrepreneurial process the entrepreneur must be able to conduct a self-assessment profile, examine the frame work for self assessment, develop a personal entrepreneurial strategy, identify data to be collected in the self-assessment process and learn about receiving feedback and setting goals.

Concepts associated to include:

- risk
- entrepreneurship
- macro-screening
- micro-screening
- competition
- wage employment

Influencing factors to include:

- market conditions
- markets – demand/supply
- global trends
- level of economic activities
- funding
- economic stability
- social stability
- resources availability

The entrepreneur must be able to:

- understand the extreme complexity in predicting or aligning him/herself to specific careers in an environment of constant change
- determine the kind of entrepreneur he or she wants to become based on attitudes, behaviours, competencies, experience and how these fit with the requirements and demands for a specific opportunity
- evaluate thoroughly his or her attraction to entrepreneurship
- effectively develop personal plan
- utilize available information that will enhance his or her ability to achieve success

The entrepreneur may encounter setbacks if the planning process is not effectively pursued.

Pitfalls may include:

- proceeding without effective planning which may result in commitment to uncertainty
- commitment to a premature path with the desirability of flexibility can lead to disaster
- personal plans fail for the same reasons as business plans including frustration if the plan appears not to be working immediately and the challenges of changing behaviour from an activity-oriented routine to one that is goal oriented
- developing plans that fail to anticipate obstacles, and those that lack progress milestones and reviews

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competency is to be demonstrated when the entrepreneur is able to undertake a personal entrepreneurial assessment exercise to determine if he or she possesses the necessary credentials to be a successful entrepreneur. This stage of the entrepreneurial process is critical since experience has shown that the founder is one of the deciding forces if the venture is to succeed and prosper.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

The entrepreneur will be assessed by his/her action in developing an orchestrated plan in order to effectively pursue the business concept.

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- personal entrepreneurial profile systems
- effective management systems: marketing, operations/productions, finance, administration, law
- how to measure feedback
- the method of developing a personal plan and a business plan
- understanding the difference between entrepreneurial culture and management culture

Skills

The ability to:

- determine barriers to entrepreneurship
- minimize exposure to risk
- exploit any available resource pool
- tailor reward systems to meet a particular situation
- effectively plan and execute activities
- use computer technology to undertake assessments

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be made available:

Personal computer with access to the internet and appropriate software that will enable one to conduct the necessary analysis using the internet

(5) Method of Assessment

A useful method of assessment is to determine if the venture can stand up to the test of critical evaluation.

(6) Context of Assessment

This stage of the entrepreneurial process is assessed when comparisons are made between actual outcomes and plans/projections.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- relevant legislation regarding consumer credit issues
- relevant industry codes of practice including Consumer Credit Code, Privacy Act, Credit Act
- roles and relationships between participants within the financial services industry, including banks and other financial intermediaries
- appropriate use of questioning and listening techniques
- sound knowledge of a range of personal financial statements received by consumers, the terminology used and layout of statements
- sound knowledge of consumer issues relating to superannuation information

Skills

The ability to:

- demonstrate interpersonal skills including the ability to respond with empathy in sensitive cases
- demonstrate numerical and mathematical skills as relevant to explaining information contained within a range of personal financial statements
- demonstrate presentation skills
- analyse and interpret basic financial information
- relate to people from a range of social, cultural and ethnic backgrounds

(4) Resource Implications

- Access to the organisation's software and other resources relevant to the performance of the role.

(5) Method of Assessment

For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed in the workplace or in a simulated environment.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

| 4. | Incorporate objects and charts in spreadsheets | 4.1 | Objects are imported to and manipulated within a spreadsheet using the correct procedures.         |
|    |                                                | 4.2 | Spreadsheet data is clearly displayed in different charts.                                         |
|    |                                                | 4.3 | Charts are appropriately modified for formatting purposes.                                         |
| 5. | Sort and Lookup Records                        | 5.1 | Basic and advanced sorting options are used.                                                       |
|    |                                                | 5.2 | Lookup functions to return values from search table are used.                                      |
|    |                                                | 5.3 | Scenarios are created and worked with.                                                             |
| 6. | Create nested functions and macros             | 6.1 | Nested functions are created, edited and copied.                                                   |
|    |                                                | 6.2 | Macros are created, edited and executed.                                                           |

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to the operations of advance features of spreadsheet applications and applies to individuals in the information and communication industry.

Hardware may include but not limited to:

- personal computer
- networked system
- printer

Software may include but not limited to:

- Microsoft Excel
- Lotus 123

Formatting may include:

- margins
- indentations
- page layout
- orientation

Mathematical formulae may include:

- average
- interest
- multiply
- divide

Data may include:

- numeral
- text
- images
- objects

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to complete basic operations associated with the advanced features of a spreadsheet application in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- creating spread sheets
- insertion of correct data
- use appropriate formulae
- formatting and modifications done to specifications
- create nested functions and macros
- correct interpretation of job specifications

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

Pre-requisites for this unit are:

- ITICOR0231A Operate a personal computer

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- basic technical terminology in relation to reading help files and prompts
- log-in procedures relating to accessing a PC
- types of software
- basic mathematics
- formatting functions of software
- nested functions and macros

Skills

The ability to:

- create spreadsheets
- format and modify worksheets
- apply mathematical formulae
- customise settings

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be provided:

- actual workplace or simulated environment
- personal computer/network
- printer

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency shall be assessed while work is undertaken under direct supervision with regular checks, but may include some autonomy when working as part of a team.

Competencies in this unit may be determined concurrently. Assessment must be in accordance with the performance criteria.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job. Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. A range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge should support this.

Simulated activities must closely reflect the workplace.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCTVET Qualification Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.

  - 4.1 Macros are recorded as required.
  - 4.2 Macros are run and edited as required.
  - 4.3 Macros are added to the toolbar.

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to the activities associated with the essential operations linked to advance operations of a word processing application and applies to all individuals in the information and communication industry.

Software may include but are not limited to:

- Microsoft Word
- Microsoft Works
- Corel WordPerfect

Equipment may include:

- personal computer
- printer

Formatting may include:

- margins
- enhancements to text –colour, font, size
- enhancements to format – borders, patterns and colour
- alignment on page

Competency is to be demonstrated by the ability to complete basic operations associated with creating and formatting forms, long documents and macros in accordance with the performance criteria and the range listed within the range of variable statements.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

It is essential that competence is observed in the following aspects:

- create documents in line with organisation's guidelines
- customise settings
- format and layout document to specification
- insert form elements
- use software features and tools appropriately
- create and run macros

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- operating systems software and software tools
- applications and their features
- form fields and their properties
- use of document maps
- macros and templates

Skills

The ability to:

- create form elements
- customise settings
- create tables and templates
- work with long documents
- format and style documents

(4) Resource Implications

The following resources should be provided:

- work environment (simulated or actual enterprise)
- personal computer/network
- printer

(5) Method of Assessment

Competency shall be assessed while work is undertaken under direct supervision with regular checks, but may include some autonomy when working as part of a team.

Competencies in this unit may be determined concurrently. Assessment must be in accordance with the performance criteria.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job. Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation. A range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge should support this.

Simulated activities must closely reflect the workplace.

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

This unit may be assessed on its own or it may be assessed with other units that cover related skills and knowledge.

Evidence is most relevant when provided through an integrated activity, which combines the elements of competency for the unit, or a cluster of units of competency.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

To achieve competency in this unit, a person must be able to demonstrate:

- knowledge of statutory requirements
- knowledge of state and territory taxes and charges
- knowledge of organisational policies and procedures
- knowledge of accounting principles and practices
- ability to gather and verify data
- ability to calculate taxable income
- ability to review compliance
- knowledge of relevant taxation legislation
- interpreting and identifying applications of statutory requirements
- documenting financial data in appropriate format for taxation returns
- accurate estimation of taxation liabilities evaluating and depreciating assets

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- income tax legislation
- government taxes and charges
- options, methods and practices for deductions, benefits and depreciation
- ethical considerations for the handling of returns (e.g. conflict of interests, confidentiality, disclosure requirements)

Skills

The ability to:

- demonstrate interpersonal skills and communication skills (eg liaising, listening, consulting)
- demonstrate report writing and document preparation
- record, gather and consolidate financial information
- research and identify legislation and rulings applicable to income taxation
- use information technology for the set up and analysis of spreadsheets
- demonstrate planning skills for timetabling and scheduling reports and lodgements.

(4) Resource Implications

- availability of qualified assessors
- systems which facilitate recording of trainees' profiles and progress
- facilities for workplace or simulated environment assessment

(5) Method of Assessment

For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

The taxation knowledge components only of this accounting unit of competency must be tested through written examination.

(6) Context of Assessment

Assessment of performance requirements in this unit should be undertaken within the financial services industry context and should cover aspects of personal/financial responsibility and accountability.

Aspects of competency, including the attainment of relevant knowledge and skills, may be assessed in a relevant workplace, a closely simulated work environment, or other appropriate means that clearly meet industry competency requirements.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCTVET Qualifications Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.

RANGE STATEMENTS

The Range Statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that will affect performance. The following variables may be present with training and assessment depending on the work situations, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry contexts.

Activity, product or service may include:

- the full range of financial services products and activities (eg insurance products and claims, retail banking services, financial planning, credit management and so on).

Extent, cause and nature may include but not limited to:

- service standards not adequately met
- claims disallowed
- employee error
- customer lack of understanding of the product
- documents or records of a transaction misplaced/lost by the company or the customer

Necessary information may include but not limited to:

- personal details of the person with the problem
- dates, time, place, and other details of the problem
- organization policy relating to that class of problem

Problem solving tools and analytical techniques may include but not limited to:

- organization policy and procedures
- industry dispute settlement procedures
- step by step problem solving approach
- using deadlock breaking techniques, such as resting the position, clarifying the positions, deferring the decision, preparing a compromise

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- the ability to analyse problems
- identify the cause
- propose a range of solutions and corrective actions
- select and implement the most effective actions

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- thorough knowledge of the individual's work environment
- thorough knowledge of products and services and the expected processes, standards and outcomes of such
- a structured approach to problem solving
- organisational policy and procedure
- specific products and services standards

Skill

The ability to:

- demonstrate collection and analysis skills
- demonstrate skills in evaluating the advantages and disadvantages of a number of approaches and outcomes
- demonstrate problem solving skills
- demonstrate observation skills

(4) Resource Implications

- access to information about workplace problems
- the usual information sources available in a workplace

(5) Method of Assessment

- For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.
- Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

- This unit should be assessed in the workplace, in a simulated environment or a combination of these.

RANGE STATEMENTS

The Range Statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that will affect performance. The following variables may be present with training and assessment depending on the work situations, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry contexts.

Grounds for the dispute may include but not limited to:

- interpretation of terms and conditions
- claims
- liability
- validity of contract
- failure to provide agreed service
- provision of inaccurate advice
- fraud

All parties may include but not limited to:

- employer
- insurer
- claimant
- risk manger
- service providers
- brokers
- investigators or assessors
- industry and professional organizations
- unions

All information may include but not limited to:

- customer details
- company policy
- customer's past history with the company and other companies
- type of business and product or service

Investigations may include consideration of but not limited to:

- has the correct procedure been followed
- has the customer been kept informed of progress of the dispute
- was the initial decision that is being deputed based on adequate information

Formal conciliation services may include but not limited to:

- referral to outside bodies such as mediators
- conciliation bodies or specific industry dispute resolution bodies such as:
  - the Industrial Dispute Tribunal and Financial Services Commission

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- the ability to settle disputes in the financial services industry in line with organization's policy and procedures and industry and legislative requirements
- a knowledge of disputes resolution techniques
- knowledge of relevant legislation, company policy and procedures and industry codes of practice

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- relevant legislation
- company policy and procedures for dispute resolution
- risk prevention methods
- industry section compliance requirements and dispute settling procedures and requirements
- customer charter

Skill

The ability to:

- interpret product and policy information
- apply negotiation skills
- demonstrate advanced communication skills

(4) Resource Implications

- access to a qualified assessor or assessment team
- access to the information about a range of workplace disputes

(5) Method of Assessment

- For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.
- Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

- This unit may be assessed on the job or a combination of on and off the job assessment.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- the ability to carry out all phases of the report writing process from defining the purpose and scope, collecting and analysing the information and producing the final product and presenting the results in a formal situation

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and Skills

Knowledge

Knowledge of:

- research techniques
- conventions of report writing
- presentation approaches and principles

Skill

The ability to:

- apply time management skills
- apply research skills
- demonstrate organization and analysis skills
- demonstrate communication skills
- organize materials and to write clearly and logically
- demonstrate presentation skills

(4) Resource Implications

- access to company documents and information systems
- research tools such as computers and libraries
- access to relevant personnel as required by the topic of the report

(5) Method of Assessment

- For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence should be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.
- Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

- This unit may be assessed in the workplace, in an educational institution or in a combination of these two settings.

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment.

This unit may be assessed on its own or it may be assessed with other units that cover related skills and knowledge.

Evidence is most relevant when provided through an integrated activity which combines the elements of competency for the unit, or a cluster of units of competency.

(1) Critical Aspects and Evidence

- ability to identify and describe the financial products and services their company uses and/or provides, their unique characteristics, how they rate to competitors, and the type of customers and customer needs they are best suited for

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- Nil

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- general marketing and promotional techniques such as product placement, how to identify strengths and weaknesses, and how to overcome resistance
- organisation's products and services or those used by the organisation

EVIDENCE GUIDE

Competence in this unit must be assessed over a period of time in order to ensure consistency of performance over the Range of Variables and contexts applicable to the work environment. This unit may be assessed on its own or it may be assessed with other units that cover related skills and knowledge.

Evidence is most relevant when provided through an integrated activity, which combines the elements of competency for the unit, or a cluster of units of competency.

(1) Critical Aspects of Evidence

To achieve competency in this unit, a person must be able to demonstrate:

- validating of account details
- basic knowledge of appropriate legislation
- understanding and implementation of company credit policy
- sufficient liaison skills to clarify information for basic credit accounts
- ability to use data entry and recording systems

(2) Pre-requisite Relationship of Units

- ITICOR0011A      Carry out data entry and retrieval procedures

(3) Underpinning Knowledge and SkillsKnowledge

Knowledge of:

- basic knowledge of general development in the credit management sector and company policy
- occupational health and safety (OH&S) requirements

Skills

The ability to:

- record, update and file correspondence and documentation
- demonstrate database entry and maintenance skills
- process account applications effectively and efficiently
- demonstrate interpersonal, telephone and writing skills

(4) Resource Implications

Assessment of this unit of competence requires access to:

- qualified assessors and assessment guidelines
- a system which facilitates recording of trainee's profiles and progress
- facilities for workplace or simulated environment assessment

(5) Method of Assessment

For valid and reliable assessment of this unit, evidence must be gathered through a range of methods to indicate consistent performance.

Assessment of this unit of competence will usually include observation of processes and procedures, oral and/or written questioning on underpinning knowledge and skills and other methods as required.

(6) Context of Assessment

This unit should be assessed in an industry context. Aspects of competency, including attainment of relevant knowledge and skills may be assessed in a simulated work environment.

CRITICAL EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Three levels of performance denote level of competency required to perform a task. These levels do not relate to the NCTVET Qualifications Framework. They relate to the seven areas of generic competency that underpin effective workplace practices.
